Town Hall Meeting

Alissa Hummer, director of campus planning and design, was among those who presented at a Town Hall Meeting in Corwin Pavilion on Tuesday, March 11. She provided an update on the status of the campus's Long Range Development Plan.

Other speakers reported on business transformation processes, including Enterprise Technology Services; the Financial System Implementation Project (FSIP); UCPATH; KRONOS; and Gateway.

In addition, Marc Fisher, associate vice chancellor for administrative services, discussed campus construction and new residential housing projects such as the Bio-Engineering Building, the Faculty Club renovation, the Institute for Energy Efficiency, housing for KITP scholars-in-residence and the Sierra Madre and San Joaquin apartment complexes.

Campus police chief Dustin Olson gave a report on campus safety and security, and Jackie Treadway, director of facilities management, discussed reorganizations within the unit that are designed to make operations more efficient.

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society.

All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.
