In the Presidents' Words

Just in time for Presidents Day, UC Santa Barbara students deliver some of the most memorable lines from the inaugural addresses of several U.S. presidents. These historic addresses are among the 10 most-searched presidential inauguration speeches on UCSB's American Presidency Project website. The American Presidency Project, according to Director John Woolley, professor of political science, is a compilation of more than 100,000 presidential documents, from Washington to Obama. "We are the only place where you can get them all, from all the presidents, in one place," says Woolley in this video.

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California, Santa Barbara is a leading research institution that also provides a comprehensive liberal arts learning experience. Our academic community of faculty, students, and staff is characterized by a culture of interdisciplinary collaboration that is responsive to the needs of our multicultural and global society. All of this takes place within a living and learning environment like no other, as we draw inspiration from the beauty and resources of our extraordinary location at the edge of the Pacific Ocean.
